Description

We are a social startup a casual-outdoors brand that combines design with artisanal textiles from Indigenous communities in Mexico. We design clothing and accesories (backpacks, bags, shirts, tshirts, caps and swimsuits) for young travelers and adventures Each piece has handmade textiles from poor communities in México with the aim of integrate them to a better value chain, so they can make a living from the activities they enjoy and preserve their own culture. We are looking for the international market, making alliances with distributors, boutiques, department chains, etc.
